SOMEbody is terribly fooled as to the outlook in the presidential campaign. The prophets on both sides are claiming the same states, and both sides declare that they will carry the election easily.

Gov. SAYERS attended the New York bazaar given for the benefit of Galveston, by special invitation of those in charge of the affair, and now some New Yorkers are criticising him for doing so, calling it bad taste on his part. The same critics want to know why the state legislature has done nothing to aid the storm-stricken. The question of taste on the governor's part may be a matter of opinion, but it can surely be no worse to ask aid in person for Galveston's aid, than it was to appeal through the medium of the press for relief, which the governor did. As to the legislature doing something to aid the sufferers, there is no doubt that when that body meets in January, such aid as the state constitution allows will be granted. Gov. Sayers himself has given this assurance. It has not, however, appeared to him necessary to put the state to the expense of an extra or special session for this purpose, when the immediate needs of the sufferers seem to be already provided for. That the legislature will do all in its power at the proper time is assured, and it will be done with the entire sanction of the the Texas people.

A CHILD MANIAC.

Boy of 4 Placed in a Padded Cell in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Cal.—In a padded cell in the state asylum for the insane at Napa lies the youngest maniac that was ever adjudged insane by a court. Montee Ledderbos, aged 4, has just been cast into the place for the living dead. He is there for life. His disease is incurable, the doctors say. Homicidal mania is the form of madness from which he suffers. He is dangerous to himself and to every one with whom he comes in contact.

Montee was as healthy a young-

"A Good Name is Better Than Riches."

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a good name. A legion of those who owe health to its blood purifying qualities laud it to the skies. It brings the riches of health to those who use it, in the shape of absolutely pure blood, the permanent foundation stone of health.

Weakness—"I was all run down, weak and without appetite. A friend brought me a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began taking it and three bottles entirely cured me." Mrs. M. A. Logan, 127 Post Street, Rutland, Vt.

Blood Purifier—"We think Hood's Sarsaparilla has no equal as a blood purifier and invigorator of the system." J. B. Best, Woodbury, N. J.

ster in brain and body as was as born. He was the delight of his parents, who looked at the rounded limbs and the innocent face smiling up at them and found them fair to see.

When he was 4 years old he was thrown out of a hammock and hurt his head. At first the injury effected his health. He began to droop. He wasted away. For a long time he hovered between life and death with a fever.

When he began to mend his recovery was wonderfully rapid. He grew strong and sinewy. His muscular strength was something strange, abnormal. His parents were happy for a time, and then one day they awoke to the fact that their baby boy was a little monster. He loved to torture dogs and cats; he destroyed his toys; he broke everything he laid his hands on; he turned his infant wrath against other children. He nearly killed one baby by striking it on the head with a nursing bottle. Another he assaulted with a hat pin. This was his favorite weapon. His poor mother's body is covered with scratches and bruises made by the infant monster.

Doctors were called in one after another. They could do nothing for the child. At the College of Osteopathy his skull was examined with the X-ray. On the skull just at the base of the brain was found a dark spot. It marked the place where the blood had thickened as a result of the injury, and behind it traces of blood clots and degenerate brain could be dimly seen. An operation was impossible. It would have been fatal.

His mother is in St. Winfred's hospital. She must undergo a dangerous operation which will probably result in her death. Her trouble is largely due to worrying over her child maniac.

EASE AND DISEASE

A Short Lesson on the Meaning of a Familiar Word.

Disease is the opposite of ease. Webster defines disease as "lack of ease, uneasiness, trouble, vexation, disquiet." It is a condition due to some derangement of the physical organism. A vast majority of the "dis-ease" from which people suffer is due to impure blood. Disease of this kind is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla which purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, pimples and all eruptions. It tones the stomach and creates a good appetite, and it gives vigor and vitality to the whole body. It reverses the condition of things, giving health, comfort and "ease" in place of "disease."

ANXIOUS TO DO HIS BEST.

It was a mean trick, but, then, that is the kind that's usually successful.

"That dog," said the owner, "will bring me anything I send him for, and I am willing to bet on it."

Straightway a bet was arranged, and then the manager of the billiard hall suggested that he would like to have the table brought to him.

"Certainly," answered the owner of the dog, and he pointed to the table and said, "Fetch it!"

The dog raced around it once or twice and then grabbed a pocket and tore it off.

"Hold on!" cried the billiard man. "He'll ruin the table."

"Of course," answered the owner of the dog, "but if you give him time he'll get it all over here. You didn't suppose he could bring it in one trip, did you?"

But the billiard man paid the bet.—Chicago Post.
